In-App Payments Service

Single Click White Label Solution

The ability for end users to have a quick and easy checkout has a dramatic impact on conversion rates. The fewer steps that are in the checkout process the better and Triton's single click solution using mobile billing is an ideal fit letting consumers purchase digital content, unlock functionality in an app, pay for one-time charges, or add almost anything to the application experience. Subscriptions that are sold with a developer-specified, recurring billing cycle are also supported by our service. With the Android operating system dominating globally, currently representing 52.5% of the market, application developers and game developers in particular need to have a strong Android strategy especially when it comes to monetization. Our white label solution provides an ideal payment option for this growing market space.

Display your Application Brand Offer and single click Payment button. Include terms and contact information.

PURCHASE	UNLOCK
UPGRADE	ADD
DOWNLOAD	BUY
SUBSCRIBE	GET

The Triton service supports in-app products that are digital goods which are offered for sale from inside an application to users. These goods for example include in-game currency, application feature upgrades that enhance the user experience, and new or premium content for a specific application.